Keepers of Law and Order

Student Government

Operating under a pattern much like that of the city govemment of Wichita, the Student Commission provided a governing body for the students of Southeast. Under Woody Thompson, student commissioner, they elected Bob Williams as mayor, and put through such projects as the student directory and the All-School Project. They also passed a thumbs down ruling on the smoking lounge for students after much investigation of the subject.

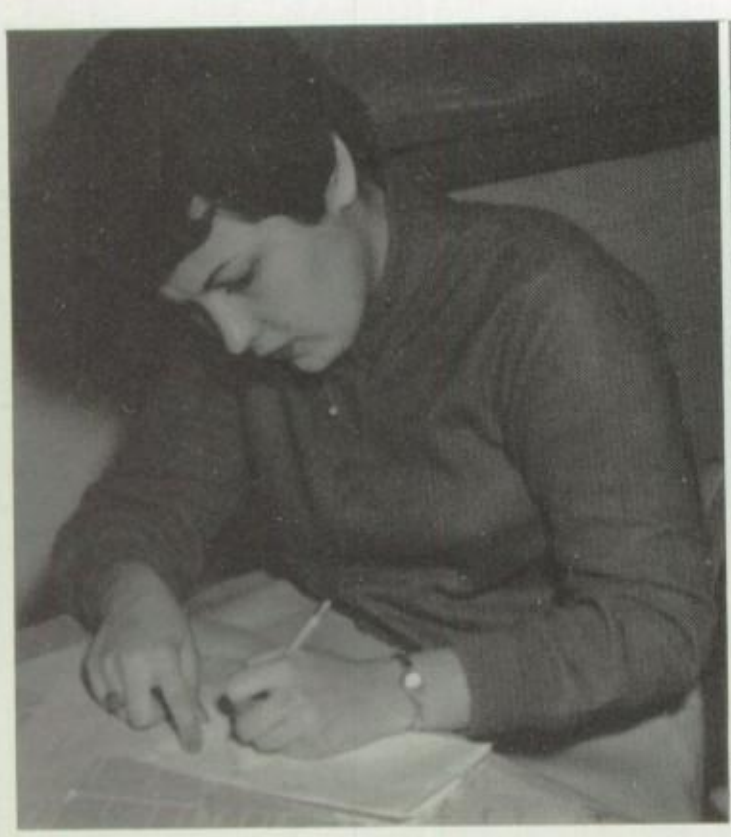
Journalism Staffs

Picas; Dummy sheets; sophomores, "spelled with three o's, please"; headlines and kickers; and pleas of "we need more ads" became familiar to the journalism students as they concentrated in putting out a paper every two weeks. The Stampede was published under three different staffs during the year with Doug Francis, Linda Swander, and Judy Norton as editors.



Yearbook Yeoman

Yearbook Staff. Standing: Rowland, Moreland, Kratochvil, Gardner, Prophet, Wall, Quivey. Seated: Wright, Francis, Norton, Kraft, Swander, Evans. Inset: White.

The swishing of the paper cutter and the tapping of the typewriters could be heard coming from the journalism room as the yearbook staff bled and pasted pictures, worried over the budget, and misplaced copy until all hours of the night. What had started out as a book job ended up as a course in salesmanship as the staff raised money to finance the book, even going so far as to throw the first school dance, the Bison Bop. The result of these efforts is this, the first edition of Hoofbeats.

Senior Thespians and Dramatists

Thespians. On the ladder: White, Crutcher, Coldiron, Sherrill, Pruner, Hennessey, Belote. Under the ladder: Brazil, Williams, Holmgren.

A flighty lady with blue hair, her three greedy stepchildren, and a sanitorium of social misfits make "The Curious Savage" a delightful comedy. The play was presented by the senior class under the fine direction of Miss Ruth McCormick, dramatics teacher. Both the ideas and inspirations of the misfits and Mrs. Savage baffled the stepchildren to keep the audience in laughter.

The first production released by the junior class "Mother Is A Freshman" proved to be a sparkling comedy full of laughter and originality. Abigail decides to go to college on a scholarship in order to pay for her daughter's college education. Abigail is attractive for a 35-year-old widow and makes a hit with both the men and boys on the campus. The dean does his best to expel her and almost does. The set is the living room of the dormitory where Abigail and Susan live. The play was made possible due to the excellent direction of the dramatics teacher, Miss Ruth McCormick, and her assistants.

The Choraleers

The Southeast Choraleers, or Senior Chorus. is the ultimate of vocal groups. In their gold robes with the white and maroon reversible stoles and collars. they presented the Christmas and Easter programs along with several informal performances including the Garthur Oddfrey Show.

Junior Chorus

Working toward positions in the Choraleers, the members of Junior Chorus concentrated on improving their ability in the field of vocal music. They aided the Choraleers in presenting the Oddfrey Show and furnished it with new members at the semester.

Girls' Glee Club

These girls had their feet on the first step of the vocal department ladder. Divided into two groups for instruction purposes, they mastered their songs under the direction of Mr. Flood and Mr. Jacob. They combined for their performances and sometimes added a different touch by singing from the balcony of the auditorium.

Business Club

In school or in a future career, the objectives of this club will benefit its members. Through speakers at every meeting, they learned how to get along in the business world. Guiding the members in their activities were Miss Fran Hartness, head sponsor, and Mrs. LaVan Clark, assistant sponsor.

Courtesy Committee

"At your service" to all visitors to Southeast during the day was the Courtesy Committee. Posted at every entrance in the building, these students greeted visitors and escorted them to the proper places. These students worked during their study halls with Mr. Garland Stricklin, as chairman.

Hi-y

These boys functioned in two separate units as they worked toward their purpose of furthering Christian brotherhood. Their activities during the year included attending the Model Legislature in Topeka and other conferences and meetings. It wasn't all work though, as they held play nights and various other recreational activities during the year.

Science Club

These future wizards of the scientific world met every Friday to discuss their projects and take various field trips. The highlights of the year were the Science Fair and the Science Academy in which some of the members participated. Mr. Martin Pankratz sponsored their activities.

Rifle Club

For students who were often tempted to go out and shoot themselves, it wasn't wise to join this club. Good marksmanship was the aim of the members. Mr. Martin Pankratz guided them in their sharpshooting practice.

Rifle Club. Row 4: Bickell, Dye, Cole, Washburn, Nigh, Stallings, Mingle, Smith, Leighton, Webb, Tidwell. Derrick, Ebersole. Row 3: Warner, Speer, Doctor, Davis, Taylor, Burgin, Elliott, Reed, G. A triangle around the globe, signifying the Christian work of these girls around the world, is the symbol of the club. Affiliated with the YWCA, the girls' international activities included a fund-raising World Festival of Nations in December. Mrs. June Nyquist was their sponsor.

"Your heritage, Hope, and courage" was the slogan of the fund drive which was one of this club's activities. They also packed gift boxes for children in other lands, did volunteer work in hospitals, and took part in disaster preparedness. Mrs. Pat Gillenwater was the club sponsor.

Medical Careers Club. Row 3: Turner, Welborn, Dawson. Row 2: Robertson, K. Dawson, Papke, Fischer (Pres.). Row 1: Miss Robbins, Fenske, Mudd, Sprague.

Cheerful greetings of "Sorry to hear you are down!" and "Get well soon!" were some of the committee messages sent to students who were seriously ill or injured. These girls checked in the office for the names of students who had had a family tragedy or who were ill.

Taking a patient's temperature or making tense decisions in the operating room might be the future dreams of these club members. They are given a chance to learn more about medical careers in order to assist them in choosing a field of medicine. Working with the club sponsor, Miss Robbins, the members undertook projects to help patients in hospitals, and made field trips to medical centers.

"Long live the queen!" No, this isn't a coronation, but that queen was important to the members of Chess Club. The club met twice a month to rack their brains in deciding the next move under the watchful eye of Mr. Lee Streiff.

Drama Club

"Desmond Dalton, stand back or I'll blow ye higher than the gov'mint taxes." Is this what this club does? No, but it is a line from one of their melodramatic presentations. The members also worked in other phases of drama. Miss Ruth McCormick was their sponsor.

Office Workers

The office couldn't have operated without these girls who spent their study halls every day in there helping Mrs. Ada Clifton, the attendance secretary. They collected absence slips, carried messages and call slips, and ran any necessary errands.

Library Workers

Great novels by Scott and Hawthorne, daring adventures, books of knowledge, books of entertainment, and many other types of literature passed through the hands of these library workers each day. They also carried library slips, checked out magazines, and helped the librarians, Mrs. Emma Seely, Mrs. Carmen Ainsworth, and Mrs. Stevens in many other ways.

Projectionists

Despite rare calamities like the film snapping after it rolled about three scenes, the motion picture operators proved to be very helpful in running class films. The operators worked during their study halls with Mr. Beryl Tallady as their instructor.

Football

While the Golden Buffs couldn't seem to get that all-important win, they did turn up some surprising ties. The Baby Buffs, meanwhile, went on to win the city championship.

Basketball and Tumbling

Given a slim chance of placing anything but last, the Varsity basketball squad came to the fore with some top-notch playing to give the more highly rated squads some stiff competition.

The tumbling squad provided many enjoyable moments for the basketball fans as they provided the halftime entertainment.

Wrestling

The wrestling squad tried, but couldn't seem to find the right combination as they came up with a winless season.

Swimming

The aquamen couldn't seem to splash to the needed amount of victories, but they made a fairly good showing in spite of this. They also served as the host team for the state meet.

Girls' Sports

Attired in their green gym suits, black leotards, and gold swim suits, the girls' athletic groups showed that sports can fit in the feminine world, too. Participation in after school sports and activities helped gain points toward the gold sweatshirt the symbol of achievement. The winter gym show presented the dance groups, both modern and folk, and the gymnastic groups to the public in an elaborate show based on the night before Christmas at the North Pole.
